

Black Hawk County Supervisor Tom Little seeks re-election

I have decided to seek re-election to the Black Hawk County Board of Supervisors in this year's election. "Even though there have been many challenges and with many yet to come, I know this current board has and will continue to move forward in a positive direction." One thing that has impressed me is that there is no 'I' on the current board of supervisors. Instead it has been 'we', working together to generate solutions with positive results.

This board has placed a lot of emphasis on Black Hawk County's future, "We must create a plan for the future by addressing our current infrastructure, an area which has been greatly neglected in the past." Whether you are talking about our county roads, bridges, buildings or county equipment, these plans are vital for getting our County in better financial shape, thus lessening the tax burden.

This board has excelled in renewing relationships with various boards, commissions, department heads and employees through the sharing of ideas and services for the betterment of Black Hawk County, rather than the unproductive strain relationships that have existed in the past.

We have and must continue to focus on economic development. There have been some disappointments and set backs due to restricting ordinances, laws, and procedures. As a board we are currently considering specific language changes to help future zoning issues. Hopefully this will help to ensure the growth of new businesses in Black Hawk County.

Finally, I am extremely proud of the respect and professionalism that this Board has exhibited. Our work has not gone unnoticed, it is very exciting hearing from so many of you who have called or sent us an e-mail with your approval and thanks. This is a true testament of the positive direction Black Hawk County has taken.
